

2023 Ohio Maximum Fees for Copying Medical Records

July 12, 2023

The Ohio Department of Health (the “Department”) published its 2023 Medical Records Price Index¹ in accordance with the Ohio Revised Code² which sets forth that the fees charged for the copying of medical records may be adjusted annually. Each year, the Department publishes the prices that a healthcare provider or medical records company may charge for the duplication of a patient’s medical record. In addition, the law provides that a healthcare provider or medical records company must provide free of charge one copy of a patient’s medical record and one copy of any record regarding treatment performed subsequent to the original request, not including copies of records already provided upon requests by the Ohio Bureau of Workers’ Compensation, the Ohio Industrial Commission, Medicaid or a county Department for Jobs and Family Services, the Attorney General, or a patient, patient’s personal representative or authorized representative – when such records are necessary to support claims for Social Security benefits under Title II or Title XVI of the “Social Security Act.”³

If a fee may be charged, the amount charged depends upon who made the request – the patient, his/her personal representative, or a third party. The law sets forth that a patient’s personal representative is defined as a minor patient’s parent or court-appointed guardian, an individual with a durable power of attorney, the executor of an estate, or the individual responsible for an estate if it is not probated. The law does not permit a patient’s attorney, spouse, or parent to automatically step into the role of “personal representative.”

Fees for Patients and Personal Representatives
